Accessing the CE Courses

How do I register for an Online Course?

1. Go to www.aecKnowledge.com
2. Sign in or register as a new user. If you are registering as a new user, you will be sent a confirmation email that documents your user name. Save this email for your records and add Info@aecKnowledge.com to your address book so that you can receive these messages.
3. Select a course, view the preview and description, and follow the prompts to purchase the course. Courses are available for 90 days following registration.

How do I access my courses after I have paid for them?

Simply sign in again, go to the Accounts button (top right) and then to the My Courses tab. You will see your active courses listed. From there, you can View Course, Download a Transcript, or View/Take Quiz.

What if I forgot my user name?

This is better than forgetting your best friend's name. After clicking on the Sign In button, you will see a Forgot Username? prompt just below the Password box asking for your email address. Shortly after you enter your email address, you will receive an email with your username. Please make sure that your spam filter will not send emails from info@aecKnowledge.com to your junk filter.

What if I forgot my password?

After clicking on the Sign In button, you will see a Forgot Password? prompt just below the Password box. You will be asked for your email address and if it matches what we have on file, you will instantly receive an email with a link to reset your password. If your email address does not match what we have on file, you will be asked to call us to verify your identity.

Do I need a separate email address and user name to take more than one course?

No, please do not register again under a different email address. Sign in with the user name you used when you first registered. You can register and pay for as many courses as you like from a single account. (AIA reporting and AIA membership discounts can only be associated with one email address for each person.)

Why do I get an "Invalid Membership Number" even though I entered a valid membership number?

Occasionally, the databases we are provided inadvertently omit a few membership numbers. Simply email or call us, let us know your membership number, and we will verify your number and add it to our database.

Can I access the courses with my iPad, iPhone and other mobile devices?

Yes! You can view aecKnowledge courses on most smart mobile devices so you are not tethered to your desk. We are still working on compatibility with some Android devices, as there is yet a common standard for playing high-definition videos on some Android operating systems. Google is working on developing a solution for this.

Yes, aecKnowledge continuing education courses qualify for Continuing Education Credits although states often vary in their requirements. Please refer to specific course descriptions for more detail.

How do I receive CES Learning Credit for courses

How do I obtain my Continuing Education and AIA Learning Unit credits?

Per guidelines developed by AIA and other professional organizations, attendees of online learning programs must demonstrate their knowledge by passing a quiz at the end of the course. Quizzes consist of 10 multiple choice questions and a passing score is 80%.

How many times can I take the quiz?

You will have three chances to pass each course quiz and 98% of course takers successfully pass the quizzes. If you do not pass after three attempts, you will be prompted to contact aecKnowledge. Many course takers find it helpful to print the quiz and keep it next to them when viewing the course.

Do the courses qualify for education credits for organizations other than AIA and USGBC?

We will be adding courses that qualify for other professional and licensing organizations. Please refer to each course description for which organizations have accepted this course. Also, some other organizations grant credit for courses that qualify for AIA Continuing Education Credits. As this continually changes, you should check directly with the professional and licensing organizations.

Upon successful completion of the quiz, you will be able to download and print a Certificate of Completion that contains the information required by most licensing boards and professional organizations.

I am not an AIA member. Can I take the online courses for Continuing Education Credits?

Yes, even if you're not an AIA member, you can take our online courses for Continuing Education Credits. At present, most states that require continuing education accept AIA-registered courses for the mandatory continuing education state requirements. Many engineers and other professionals can claim CE credit for AIA continuing education courses as well.

Reporting

How will my Learning Units and other credits be reported?

Each course provider receives electronic reports of who successfully passed each of their courses. For AIA Learning Units, course providers then report Learning Units electronically to the AIA. (You will be prompted to enter your AIA membership number when purchasing your first course.) aecKnowledge reports your learning units to AIA within one business day of you completing the course. For GBCI credits, all units must be self-reported, as USGBC and GBCI do not yet have an automated system for providers to report credits.

How will my state mandatory education and licensing requirements be reported?

For state mandatory education and licensing requirements, we provide a Certificate of Completion at the successful completion of each continuing education course. We do not report continuing education credits to states, as most states currently require people to report their education credits and/or send copies of their Certificates of Completion with their state license renewal application.

Are my credits automatically reported for the Accessibility courses that comply with California SB 1608 licensure?

No, the State of California does not currently have an automated system. You need to send evidence that you have completed the courses (such as your Certificate of Completion) with your license renewal form.

Viewing the Courses

Can I stop a course in the middle and come back to watch it later?

Can I skip to the next chapter if needed?

Yes. When the video is playing in normal mode (not full screen), you will see the chapters listed on the right. Simply click on the next chapter or to any other chapter that you want to view.

Can I download the course video?

You can download a transcript of the course(s) you have taken but not the video itself.

Why is the video jumpy?

Our videos are optimized for 98% of viewers. If you are experiencing problems with the streaming, it is likely either because of your wireless connection or your internet speed.

First, try switching from high definition to lower definition on the bottom right of where the video is streaming (where it should say HD). Click on 360 instead of automatic or 720 and it should stream seamlessly.

Second, depending on your browser and computer settings, the high-definition videos may also use up or deplete some operating memory on your computer, so try closing other programs and/or rebooting your computer.

Why don't some of the transcripts include the diagrams contained in the videos?

Due to copyright and other concerns, some course providers have elected not to include the diagrams in the transcripts.
